What makes Maxem a sustainable e-mobility solution?

We strongly believe in a sustainable future without barriers. That is why we have developed Maxem: the combination of hardware and cloud solutions that enable you to install e-mobility and sustainable energy at scale. Maxem regulates car charging and solar power and provides you with the control needed to lower your energy costs.

Why should you invest in Maxem energy controller?

The investment will be used, among other things, to increase the team and further develop the Maxem Energy Controller, for both the residential and industrial market. This makes it possible to better control and connect steerable energy consumers, such as charging points, solar panels, batteries and heat pumps.

Our cloud platform helps companies and consumers manage charging stations, solar panels and batteries more efficiently and optimize energy consumption, even with a limited grid connection. Discover Maxem Energy Cloud
