(U.S. Embassy Pakistan) The Green Alliance partnership builds on a rich history of U.S.-Pakistan partnership. The United States invested in Pakistan's electrification more than 50 years ago, constructing dams and hydropower plants that continue to provide reliable, efficient and clean energy today.

Specifically, China argues that its alliance with Pakistan predates its joining of the Nuclear Suppliers Group (NSG), which has restricted nuclear sales to Pakistan, so this justifies its desire to supply Pakistan with the technology. The Chinese are helping construct four more nuclear power plants, the first of which is expected to be online ...
