The Newmax UPN series is a high capacity 2V deep discharge battery for various applications such as UPS and large scale solar installations. UPN series plates are produced through the DenseMax(TM) gravity casting process, which provides extra high density to the battery grids as opposed to conventional casting methods.

The French industrial group GYS has been a leading manufacturer of battery charging and maintenance products since 1964. Over 50 years of production and with manufacturing plants in Europe and Asia have firmly established GYS's reputation around the world.
